

Chance

(aka Witfield)

I got the best kid back in April, 2012. His name is Chance Witfield! He's the best! When I saw him online I just knew he was perfect and I didn't even need to meet him. I just knew it in my soul. He has been, too. He's so smart. He knows how to sit, stay, come, roll over, play dead, fetch, shake and what 'other paw' means. He loves all animals. I found him sleeping with my parent's cat the other day even. He loves horses, cows, and even likes chickens. If you ask him who stole his spots, he'll look around for them. It's so cute. He's a little suspicious of a couple cows cuz he'll really watch them. Guess I shouldn't have asked him if they stole his spots. LOL. He loves the ocean, too. He likes to pounce on the waves. He loves nature walks, splashing in creeks, and the mountains. He worried me once when he thought he needed to make friends with a young bull moose. Silly kid. I'm just glad he was on a leash at the time. My only complaint about him is that he's a bed hog! LOL! He's a pretty good snuggler when he feels like it though. All in all I couldn't have asked for a better kid. It's funny cuz he goes everywhere with me and people say all the time, "You can't tell that dog's loved at all!" and they smile and laugh. He's so spoiled! He has everything!!! Or so I think, but I always seem to find more for him! Thank you Dalmatian Rescue for the best kid ever!

*Jessica F.
Buffalo, WY*

Jessica's Sweet Boy

Think she loves him.

Chance enjoying a walk in the mountains.

Chance loves giving kisses!

Chance making a new friend

Cowboy Up!!!!

Another outing to the mountains.

Family Portrait
